FUSIONONE: THE NEW OPEN BANKING DEVELOPER CONFERENCE

FINASTRA Microsoft

Contents

What is FusionONE?

CALLING ALL FINTECHS, BANKS, DEVELOPERS

Are you a developer looking at ways to use new Open APIs to create the next financial app? Are you a Fintech looking to break into new markets – the USA in particular? Are you a Finastra client looking to innovate on your existing core system?

Hear why FusionONE is an unmissable developer conference,
Gareth Wilson, Managing Director, Financial Services, Accenture

Finastra and Microsoft are hosting the FusionONE developer conference in London in May. We have five days of Fintech and 3 ways to get involved...

17 - 19 May 2019: FusionONE Hackathon (SOLD OUT!)

Over 48 hours, 100+ coders will have access to the new open APIs; a team of mentors from Finastra, Microsoft, Accenture and FinTECHTalents; and endless energy drinks - the winning teams will pitch their new financial apps live at FusionONE on 21 May.

21 May 2019: FusionONE for business leaders

This strategy day will see Finastra unveil the latest developments in FusionFabric.cloud. Hear from leading experts on monetization strategies in cloud, data and AI. We will look at how banks, Fintechs and the ecosystem are creating marketplaces and building hybrid cloud solutions.

22 May 2019: FusionONE for developers

At this hands-on developer day, you will get a world-first play with Finastra's Open APIs for payments, retail banking, corporate banking and treasury/capital markets. We will provide training for developers, to understand how to tap into the APIs of existing cores and start to #CollaborateToInnovate using Microsoft Azure.

Don't miss this world-first!

Who Should Attend?

DEVELOPERS

Hover over graphic to expand

Reasons to Attend
- Are you looking to upskill with banking/ payments APIs?
- Are you a developer at a bank running a Finastra core, and you're looking to understand how you can start using the new APIs?
- Are you a developer at a Fintech or tech firm, and want to expand your reach with Finastra's platform, and innovate through Open Banking?

What to Expect
Our special developer day is 22 May 2019. This is where we will move from vision to practical and you will get hands-on with the APIs.

The keynote TechTalk is with Eric Boyd, CVP – AI Platform at Microsoft, which will be a real highlight.

API focus sessions in the afternoon will provide an overview of the core solutions, APIs available, real use cases, and then a 'Hello world' walk through.

Alongside the agenda, we have walk-up clinics where you can have 1:1 sessions with the API and product experts from Finastra and Microsoft.

FINTECHS/TECHS

Reasons to Attend
- Are you looking to partner with platform providers, to expand your reach?
- Are you keen to integrate with core systems?
- Are you interested to market your app in our FusionStore to Finastra's FSI clients?
- In particular, are you looking to break into the USA retail & community banks?

What to Expect
Join us on 21 May 2019 - our day for business leaders - where we will outline how your firm can get involved with the platform and open APIs.

Scott Guthrie, EVP, Cloud + AI Group, Microsoft will deliver an awesome keynote techTalk on the future of software design, build and consumption.

During the day will explore the four new growth opportunities around: open ecosystems; intelligent data; connected experiences; and financial marketplaces.

Also - invite your developer/product team to join the special developer day on 22 May, to really get hands-on with the APIs.

BANKS

CXOs, Innovation/Fintech/Platform/ Open banking strategy leads, R&D leads

Reasons to Attend
- Are you on your platform journey - considering to build your own / connect to an industry platform or have already launched a platform?
- Is your bank running a Finastra core system, and you want to understand how the platform will bring you new opportunities to innovate through internal and external development?
- Are you looking to network with other FSI leaders, to share knowledge and best practices around platform and open API strategy?

What to Expect
Join us on 21 May 2019 - our day for business leaders - where we will explain how your financial institution can benefit from the investment in the open development platform, FusionFabric.cloud, by Finastra, Microsoft and Accenture.

Gareth Wilson, Managing Director, Financial Services, Accenture will deliver an inspiring keynote on the future of emergence of the information bank.

During the day will explore the four new growth opportunities around: open ecosystems; intelligent data; connected experiences; and financial marketplaces.

Finastra's Open Development Platform

Finastra's Platform-as-a-Service solution – FusionFabric.cloud – unlocks innovation in financial services.

FusionFabric.cloud is made up of three core components:

Fusion Creator: This cloud-based development environment, to develop and edit applications, provides access to our core systems via the FusionFabric platform, and to open APIs to accelerate development.

Fusion Operate: The production environment to deploy and run apps.

Fusion Store: This is the marketplace from which applications developed on FusionFabric.cloud can be bought, sold and consumed.

With FusionFabric.cloud, Finastra facilitates open collaboration, driving the future of banking through an open platform approach.
